Furthermore, a CRM system can improve communication between different departments within an organisation and help to increase efficiency and productivity. In short, a CRM system is an essential tool for any educational organisation to improve enrolments, lead management, communication and student engagement.

DISADVANTAGES:

*CRM costs. One of the greatest challenges to CRM implementation is cost. ...

* Business culture. A lack of commitment or resistance to cultural change from people within the company can cause major difficulties with CRM implementation. ...

*Poor communication. ...

* Lack of leadership.

Another disadvantage is that you can only apply for early decision at one school, so it's important to know without a doubt that you can attend that school and pay the tuition costs. If you reject an early decision offer, you cannot apply to that college again.

- Sometimes, brilliant students get bored because of the long tenure of academic sessions.
- Exams and grades can sometimes lead to stress and anxiety.
- It is costly and rigid.
- An unprofessional and non-standard education system may also cause wastage of time and money.

Modern education which is technology based has affected social interaction among students a lot. They feel less motivated and lack peer interaction and motivation. Sometimes they feel bored as there is not much communication between teachers and peers.

However, for some students, hearing back so quickly may make them feel compelled to make a decision quickly as well, before they've even heard back from their regular decision schools. Parents could also be putting pressure on their kids to make a decision. It's important to take it slow and weigh all your options – there is time to make your choice carefully.
